About All Ears

A training company co-founded by Divya Sanbhwani and her cat, Scarlett, who guided her to the path of serving animals as her true purpose in life. Divya Sanbhwani is a certified Canine Behaviorist and specializes in training techniques that do not involve any kind of treats bribes or choke chains, just love.

Furthermore, Divya has been in the field of working with animals since 2016 and believes that she wouldn't have transformed her passion into her profession if it wouldn't be for the four little paws paving her path and leading the way.

Always in our hearts ❤️

How is the

All Ears Method

is different from other trainers...

Training is not about 'tricking' a dog with treats. Using tools like muzzle, crate or chains is not a solution to the problem a dog is facing. Training is all about communication and bridging the gap between the pet parent and the dog.

That is the quality of a trainer on how well they understand the root cause behind every concerning behavior of a dog. At All Ears, problems end when we start listening. When a dog is truly heard, understood and served is only when the fear and confusion masked under aggression truly addressed.

As a trainer at All Ears, you will learn to truly serve animals in how they would need. A dog doesn't care how much you love or are obsessed with them, they only care of how much peace you can bring into their life through training.

No Treats to Tame

No Chains to Choke

No Shock to Harm

No Crate to Restrict

Only when you feel you are truly passionate about making that actual change within you, to work on yourself to be place the spotlight on them instead yourself of how we look or are perceived, is when a dog realises how patient and persistent are you. This makes the dog truly respect and trust you with your body language than what you say.

Afterall, for dogs... actions speak louder than words, always!
